

1st Annual Volunteer Open House by Katie Morgan Saturday, May 28th—1:00—4:00 PM—Everyone is Invited

Saturday May 28th
 Time: 1pm – 4pm
 Tours: Hourly at 1pm, 2pm and 3pm
 Refreshments served

Volunteers are the heart of Roseberry. In fact, the Long Valley Preservation Society is able to operate Roseberry almost exclusively through volunteers. An impressive task since last year alone, over 1700 visitors alone browsed through the museum, several thousand attended events, stopped at the Nell Tobias Research Center, took a docent led tour of the 22 historic buildings on site, or otherwise enjoyed what Roseberry has to offer.

This year LVPS will be showcasing the hard work of our volunteers and encouraging people to become involved by hosting a Volunteer Open House. The community is invited to attend and interact with our volunteers. Guided Tours will be offered throughout the afternoon, or you can step out on your own and visit the areas you are most interested in. The store, barn, museum, church, and research center will all be open to the public on this date. Additional buildings can be accessed by joining one of our tours.

And for those who think they already know about everything happening at Roseberry, I encourage you to look again. New projects and opportunities to become involved are evolving all the time, and this year is no exception. The research center continually accepts new artifacts and documents, including a recent donation of American Indian tools. Each one is accessioned and cataloged individually by volunteers. The Fairbrother School House is being refurbished this year by our work party volunteers, with the intent of offering period tours to school children in the surrounding area. And the Valley County History Project which operates out of the Nell Tobias Research Center is currently working on their newest book about mining in Valley County.

So come out and discover, or rediscover Roseberry. Join us on Saturday May 28th from 1- 4 pm, and don't forget to bring a friend! Note: Volunteer Coordinator Katie Morgan is back on board for the season.

Wednesday Night Concerts Set for 2011

Kathy Eld, LVPS Volunteer Music Promoter fast at work for this year's line-up

LVPS presents Wednesday Concerts at the Bandstand at Roseberry. Every Wednesday in July and August, at 6:30 pm bring your picnic supper and enjoy the scenery in historic Roseberry. The General Store will be open until 8pm in case you need ice cream or wine. This is a free, kids of all ages, family friendly show. Donations to the musicians are appreciated.

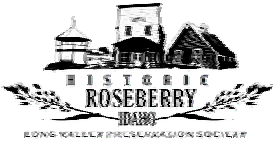

This years line up promises to hit the ground running with "Fast & Burning," a musical duo based in McCall consisting of "Fast" Eddie Pramuk (guitar & vocals) and "Burning" Bob Burns (mandolin, guitar, vocals). Playing together since late 2010, Fast & Burning have quickly made their mark as one of the top drawing musical groups in the area with dozens of shows under their belt.

Fast & Burning play an eclectic mix of songs both old and new, covers and originals in a unique, fun and engaging style. Blending their voices and instruments seamlessly, no song or type of music is exempt from their treatment which includes medleys from The Who, Jethro Tull, The Beatles and songs by Darryl Scott, Ray LaMontagne, Amos Lee, Blind Faith, Leadbelly, Old Crow Medicine Show, Frank Zappa, and even a bit of Monty Python. Originals range from blues, rock, bluegrass, rap/rock, and occasionally a bit of swing/jazz. Providing fun,

Frank Eld heading to Finland.....Minnesota

Frank will spend several weeks on the road researching and documenting Finnish barns. His travels will introduce him to many others involved in restoration of these historic buildings. The following is an excerpt of the introduction he wrote to send to perspective contacts.

"Several of the buildings (in Roseberry) being preserved are of Finnish construction, mostly log. A community of Finns homesteaded here around the 1900s. My Father and my maternal Grandparents were among these immigrant settlers. For over forty years, I have been instrumental in the moving and preservation of these important examples of Finnish architecture and culture.

Having photographed and documented all Finnish log structures remaining in this area, I am expanding my research project. I am working to photograph and document as many of the remaining Finnish log buildings in the United States and Canada as possible. While concentrating on the Finns, I also wish to photograph other Scandinavian log structures. This comprehensive documentation has not been done before. Some communities have done excellent documentation, but these are limited to their own locality. My hope is to build from these efforts.

The two main reasons for this project are to: capture this very distinctive Finnish log architectural style before it's erased from the landscape, giving credit to these hard working Finns, and to establish communications between groups like ours, who are trying to preserve these structures.

My first sojourn will be in May to northeast Minnesota, where a large number of Finns also settled and many Finnish log buildings still remain. Although it could be a daunting task, I believe with the help of Preservationists and anyone interested in preserving the Finnish heritage across the country, it can be done. As here in Idaho, I know many structures are hidden in the countryside and personal knowledge of their locations is imperative." We wish Frank safe travels and interesting times and we hope he will have the chance to share details on Facebook while he travels.

entertaining and high quality music and to never be boring is the motto they live by.

"Fast Eddie" Pramuk has been a musician and singer/songwriter for more than 35 years and has performed all over the world including India, Africa and Central America. With influences as far-ranging as Jimi Hendrix, Django Reinhardt, Neil Young and Frank Zappa, Eddie says that good music is magic. And as a performer, if you aren't having fun and feeling the energy, no one else will either! "Burning" Bob Burns comes from a long list of bands playing everything from rock to bluegrass, including The Yurt Brothers until recently forming Fast & Burning. Formerly a Valley County school teacher, Bob enjoys seeing his students in the audience, knowing each of them not only by name but also by the grades he gave them. A multi-instrumentalist, Bob's love of the mandolin is obvious and he is an ace singer as well. These guys certainly put out the energy. Often joined by standup bass player Whale (also of the Yurt Brothers) when in town, and other well known local musicians, Fast & Burning have plans to extend their geographical range to spread the love. A CD of their original music is also in the works. You can find Fast and Burning on Facebook.

A New Mule Comes to Roseberry

This winter, through the generous gift of Mark and Kristina Pickard, the museum has a new work mule. A almost new UTV "Mule" which served Valley County Sheriff's office for a short time, was donated to Roseberry. It is the perfect vehicle for working around the project site and replaces using Frank's ATV and pull behind trailer. It's a "dream come true" according to Frank. "We couldn't have ordered a more perfect fit for our needs." It has a built on dump bed and can be used to haul four people when needed. A big thanks to the Packard's for their generosity.

Idaho State Historical Society visits Roseberry

This spring Roseberry was fortunate to receive a visit by Idaho State Historical Society State Historian and Associate Director, Keith Peterson. Keith, along with wife, Mary, a former museum curator and ISHS IT Director Christine Brady dropped in for lunch and a tour of the campus with LVPS members Phyllis Bulgin, Stephanie Johnson, Dave & Ann McQuade, Juan and Eileen Duarte and Barbara Kwader. Keith spent time sharing insights on the Museum Exhibits & Displays, archival protocol and surveyed the accessioning work areas and documentation.

served in the Research Center. Kathy Eld stopped in to take the ISHS crew on a tour of the Arling House and General Store. The visit was not only informative but also reassuring as kudos were provided for our little Valley County museum in Roseberry!

Technology Workshop for Museums

On March 30 Phyllis Bulgin and Ann McQuade attended a Technology Workshop in Boise presented by the Idaho Association of Museums. Three topics were presented in the one day seminar; each topic was covered in about 2 hours. The presentations were on Power Point, Past Perfect (for accessioning museum donations), and Image Management and Editing. The instructors shared a great deal of information giving the users a 'taste' of each program and a background for study on their own. It was an interesting day. The instructors were very knowledgeable and offered themselves as resources in the future for questions users might have.

Building Committee Report by Frank Eld

Although "mud season" has put a "damper" on most building projects, the Building committee reports that the porch windows for the school have been restored and will be installed soon. In other exciting news for the School restoration, Jerry Robinson has donated an old school stove, like the original, to Roseberry. although it needs some restoration, it's one of those "gems" that is almost impossible to find. Many of you know Jerry who is Valley County road superintendent. Be sure to say a big thanks when you see him.

Flooring is coming in a little at a time for the porch. Don Dow, one of our hardworking volunteers, restored an old teacher's desk the museum had in storage and a chair which Frank gave from the store. Big additions to our school project.
